STORY OF TRAGEDY

Band of Thirty Officers Were Led into the Royal Palace.

COLONELS LEADERS

King Alexander Drew a Revolver and Shot One Officer to Death, Returned to Queen Draga and They Died Together.

Belgrade, June 12.—About 1 o'clock Thursday morning the Sixth and Seventh regiments were called to arms and were led to the royal palace, which they entirely surrounded. A band of thirty officers, led by Colonel Maschin and Colonel Mischichs, forced their way into the palace, shooting all who attempted to bar their passage. They were aided by treason within. The aide-de-camp on duty, Colonel Nuamovics, had been won over by the conspirators, and was entrusted with the plans for action within the royal enclosure. Several doors leading to the royal apartments were blown in by dynamite. Colonel Nuamovics himself bursting in the door of the royal bed-chamber with a bomb. The officers had called on the king to open, but he had curtly refused.

As the door fell, the king rushed to a window and appealed for assistance, but no answer came. Realizing the situation, he returned to the queen, holding her in his arms to protect her, and awaited the conspirators.

Colonel Nuamovics and the officers then entered the room. Nuamovics presented to the king a form of abdication for his signature. The document contained the statement, it is said, "that by marrying a prostitute" the king had degraded Serbia, and that he must abdicate.

The king's answer was to draw a revolver and kill Nuamovics on the spot. Colonel Mischichs picked up the document and presented it again. King Alexander waved it from him. The officers, then, with their drawn revolvers, fired a hail of bullets, and the royal couple fell together.

Ten peasants were killed.

ONE VERSION.

The Account That Was Sent to National Zeitung at Berlin.

Berlin, June 12.—A dispatch from Semlin, Hungary, to the National Zeitung gives an interesting version of the trouble at Belgrade. It says:

A party of officers proceeded to the palace by previous arrangement with General Jubasivovitch and called upon King Alexander to abdicate in favor of Prince Narageorgevitch. The king refused, and shot Colonel Naumivics, who made the proposal. The other officers thereupon summoned the war minister General Pavlovitch, and the minister of the interior, and shot the king and queen and Petrovics, one of the king's aides-de-camp, and other loyal officers. The leader of the actual assailants was Lieutenant-Colonel Mischich, who himself murdered the queen. The latter together with her brother and sisters, was struck down with an ax. The queen died immediately. The king lived a few minutes.

The immediate cause of the revolution was the return to Belgrade of Lieut. Lungievitz, brother of the queen, and a supposed candidate for the throne. The surviving ministers have been arrested.

The obsequies of the king and queen will be held June 14. A festival illumination of Belgrade is projected. The dispatch concludes with stating that intense joy prevails at Belgrade.

Made No Statement.

Washington, June 12.—The report of the assassination of the king and queen of Serbia, together with most of the king's cabinet, was seriously regarded at the Russian embassy. Ambassador Cassini, however, declined to make any statement.

Excitement Caused at Paris

Paris, June 12.—The tragic news from Belgrade caused excitement here. It is generally believed to have been brought about by the late king suspending the constitution.

TWELVE BODIES.

That Number Thus Far Have Been Recovered in Arizona Disaster.

El Paso, Tex., June 12.—Twelve bodies of flood victims have been recovered at Clifton, Ariz., but the death list is generally placed at thirty-one. Many of the bodies will never be recovered, although hundreds of men, including many of the striking miners, are engaged in the search. The rush of waters bore most of the bodies from Chase creek into the San Francisco river. So fierce is the current that the bodies will be carried far down stream, or will be covered by silt and wreckage.

Harrowing tales of death are brought in by people living along Chase canyon.

Gasoline Lamp Explodes.

Guthrie, Okla., June 12.—During a meeting of the citizens of Waureka in a crowded hall a gasoline lamp exploded, causing a stampede of a hundred persons. Many were trampled under foot and wild disorder reigned. Rev. V. Krutinger, Miss Yanduff and Miss Alta Benningfield were seriously injured.

ASSEMBLY ABOLISHED

New King Does Away With Former Legislative Body.

KINGLY RECOGNITION

The Foreign Ministers Find There Is a Rather Delicate Question Confronting Them and Which Must Be Answered.

Paris, June 12.—The foreign office here has received a dispatch from the French agent on the Serbian frontier confirming a press announcement that the new government at Belgrade had abolished the legislative assembly created by the late King Alexander and had renewed the ancient skupschina, which has been ordered to assemble next Monday for the purpose of ratifying the proclamation of Peter Karageorgevitch as king. The assembly just abolished was made up of appointees of the late king and did not contain a member who was opposed to Alexander's policy. The dispatch adds that Belgrade continues quiet, the people apparently being reconciled to the new conditions.

Officials here doubt the truth of the report that Belgrade is quiet, as authorities here are unable to secure further direct dispatches from Belgrade. Even official dispatches which have reached Paris appear to have been mutilated.

It is stated authoritatively that thus far there has been no exchange of communications between the powers concerning Prince Peter Karageorgevitch's assumption of the throne of Serbia, but officials are beginning to seriously consider the delicate question of recognition of the new sovereignty. It is expected that Serbian authorities will convoke a meeting of foreign ministers at Belgrade and present the latter with definite evidence that the people want the new government and that it has the ability to maintain order and guarantee the safety of foreigners. When the ministers shall have advised their respective governments that such assurances have been received the powers will determine whether recognition shall be accorded. It is considered probable that the powers will act together on the question of giving or withholding recognition. It is further stated that if the powers individually or collectively protest against the late bloody method there will likely occur a hitch in connection with the question of recognizing the new government. The latter thus far has not addressed any communication to the powers, the latter receiving all their information from their own ministers or from agents.

BODIES BURIED.

King and Queen Interred Before Daylight on Friday Morning.

Belgrade, June 12.—King Alexander and Queen Draga, who were assassinated early Thursday morning in the royal palace, were buried in the family vault of the Obrenovitchs in the chapel of the cemetery of St. Mark. The interment was carried out with complete secrecy. Colonel Naumovitch was also buried. The city is lavishly decorated with flags and the national colors. All officers have removed Alexander's cipher from the cockade of their caps.

Lasted Forty-Five Minutes.

Berlin, June 12.—A dispatch to the Cologne Gazeiter from Belgrade says that the massacre lasted three-quarters of an hour. The assailant declared that the killing of King Alexander was unavoidable because if the queen had been murdered or removed the court clique would have incited the king to persecution and reprisals. A window in the Russian legation at Belgrade was shattered by a bullet during the fusillade at the palace.

Interred in a Pit.

London, June 12.—A special dispatch says the bodies of King Alexander and Queen Draga were buried in a large pit, dug in the village of Rakovita, and that as a mark of ignominy the bodies of their murdered relatives and those of the ministry that were killed were placed above them and then the common grave filled with earth.

President Was Shocked.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 12.—President Roosevelt's train passed through this city. There was a small crowd at the station to greet him. The president was informed by a representative of the Associated Press of the assassination of the king and queen of Serbia and was greatly shocked, saying, "That is bad."

Assembly Decides Monday.

Washington, June 12.—The state department has received the following telegram from Charles S. Wilson, secretary of the legation at Athens, dated Thursday: "No new Serbian king officially proclaimed. National assembly decides Monday."

Marching on Belgrade.

Berlin, June 12.—A dispatch to the Lokal Anzeiger from Buda Pest says the garrison of Nish, where the late King Alexander was most popular, is, according to a railroad official who arrived at Buda Pest from Belgrade, marching on the Serbian capital with full war equipment and artillery.

The Eagle reporter was informed yesterday that the new well at the waterworks plant is a good producer, better than the old one, and that it has not diminished the flow of water from the old one. Both pumps are now running and there is an abundant supply of water continually on hand.
The plant is now able to shut down in the afternoons with full standpipe and reservoir, and the waterworks people think the water question is solved so far as present demands are concerned.

LOSSES NOT KNOWN.

The Amount of Damage Done at East St. Louis Cannot Yet Be Learned.

St. Louis, June 12.—That the crisis of the flood situation in East St. Louis has passed, so far as that city is concerned, is generally accepted as a fact by the citizens of East St. Louis. Boat crews which Wednesday strained their energies to the point of exhaustion in rescuing the prisoners of the flood, Thursday occupied themselves in saving property and bringing to higher ground belated refugees who were in immediate danger. The river Thursday night was stationary at 37.9 feet.

Since the break in the Illinois Central levee the flood has made no dangerous breaks, although the flood area was further increased by seepage. Some water has been finding its way into the territory between Missouri avenue and St. Louis avenue. People in this district, however, have not been compelled to leave their homes, although it is necessary for them to use boats to obtain food.

East St. Louis Thursday as a whole was a scene of disaster. No one could be found with anything like a definite idea of the property loss. Vague mention of millions of dollars was the nearest estimate the best informed citizens could come to it. There was a great disposition, however, to accept minimum reports of loss of life, rather than the stories originating in the excitement of the moment when the flood poured in. There were no reports of drownings Thursday, nor were any bodies recovered.

The work has been and will continue to be that of caring for the refugees. The supply of food seems ample.

Lack of drinking water is one of the worst inconveniences suffered by the East St. Louisians who were caught in the second stories of their dwellings by the flood. Many are compelled to drink the water that surrounds them on all sides and much sickness is likely to result if this continues.

FLOWERS STREWN.

The Graves of Confederate Dead at Camp Chase Beautifully Adorned.

Columbus, O., June 12.—The graves of 2260 Confederate dead were strewn with flowers at Camp Chase Thursday in the presence of representative sons and daughters of the Confederacy and prominent men who fought on the other side. The services were held for the first time at Camp Chase under the auspices of Robert E. Lee chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy.

In answer to an appeal recently issued by General Gordon, several dozens of boxes of fragrant magnolias and beautiful roses and wreaths made of evergreen and moss arrived from chapters in the south.

Governor Nash, Rev. Jno. Hewitt, Colonel H. W. Knauss and Al. G. Field, the minstrel, were the principal speakers. The governor, on account of sickness, spoke briefly but impressively. He said all we should do now was to create and foster an affection for the government as it now exists and that honoring the soldiers on both sides who fought in the civil war for the brave deeds they did was — of the best ways to do this.

Rev. Hewitt, an ex-Confederate officer, spoke feelingly of the attention paid to the Confederate graves each year under the personal direction of Colonel Nnauss, an ex-soldier of the Union army. Mr. Field spoke briefly but impressively.

DISARMED GUARDS.

One Thousand Armed Mexicans and Italians Masters of Morenci.

El Paso, Tex., June 12.—The first serious demonstration in the Arizona miners strike occurred in the capture of the mill of the Detroit Copper company at Morenci by a strong and well armed force of strikers, who disarmed the guard. Made bolder by their success and realizing that what was to be done, must be done before the arrival of the military, 1000 armed Mexicans and Italians made themselves masters of the town. They threatened the lives of prominent citizens, most of whom are officers and managers of the departments of the copper company. Representatives of the Western Federation of Miners sent from Colorado are said to have urged moderation. The Arizona militia arrived in camp and divided among them camps at Metcalf, Morenci and Clifton where special deputies have been stationed.

SEVEN DROWNED.

Mussel Shell Hunters Met Their Fate by Capsizing of a Boat.

Memphis, Tenn., June 12.—A special to the Commercial-Appeal from Clarendon, Ark., says: Seven persons were drowned at Aberdeen, twelve miles below here, on White river, by the capsizing of a houseboat. The victims were W. B. Moneymaker and wife, J. M. Clark and wife, two boys and a girl. These people were engaged in gathering mussel shells. They loaded their effects into the boat and swung out into the stream to move further down the river, when the boat was overturned. It is supposed the boat was overloaded and was capsized by the swift current.

DRAWN TO DEATH.

Unfortunate Adrian Ferris Had Just Performed an Act of Courtesy.

New York, June 12.—After giving his seat to a woman in a street car in Sixth avenue, Adrian Ferris has met with an accident which caused his death. He got up to allow a woman to take his seat and perched on the railing. A car passing in an opposite direction caught his clothing. He was dragged to the street and almost instantly killed. Screams from women and shouts from men on both cars drew a large crowd and the police arrested the motorman.

FLOOD PREVAILS.

Rio Grande Is All Over the Lowlands and Inhabitants Had to Flee.

Santa Fe, N. M., June 12.—Flood conditions prevail all over northern and central New Mexico. The Rio Grande is flooding lowlands and settlers are taking to high grounds for safety. The bridge at Barranea was swept away. No train from the east has entered this city the past forty-eight hours. The Santa Fe railway had suspend track-laying, as the water on Estansi place is even with the top grade. Rain is still falling and this, with melting snow, will cause a further rise of the Rio Grande, Chama, Pecos and other rivers.

The projected mills are to cost in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Recorder's Good Memory.

New York, June 12.—His ability to remember faces has enabled Recorder Goff to make a man confess that thirteen years ago the recorder, then an assistant district attorney, tried the prisoner and had him sentenced to nine years in the penitentiary. When brought before the recorder, charged with burglary, the prisoner asserted he never before had been in trouble with the police. The recorder examined the features closely and recalled the former trial so accurately that the prisoner confessed. He was again found guilty.

SLEW HER BROTHER.

This Is What Mrs. Johnson Swears Jett Admitted to Her.

Jackson, Ky., June 12.—Mrs. Mary Johnson testified that Jett admitted to her that he killed her brother, J. B. Marcum.

"After my brother was dead," she said, "I started home. Curtis Jett and Tom White overtook me. I asked Jett if he killed Jim. He answered, 'Hargis' money did it, but I fired the shot.'"

CURTIS JETT.

"White denied that he fired a shot. But once I saw White laying in wait in a rock quarry to kill my brother. It was near my brother's house, last June."

Golden suggested that what Jett really said to her was, "Yes, I killed him. There can't be any shooting in Jackson but what people say I did it."

Mrs. Johnson replied that this was not the language used by Jett nor conveyed the meaning that he intended to convey.

Miss Maggie Combes said she heard Jett say to Mrs. Johnson: "Yes, I killed Marcum, there cannot be a pistol fired in Jackson unless I do it."
